

A Lucky Guy's Wonderful Life

By Marjeanne Stone, Spillway Reporter

William "Bill" Kipp is past president of Redding Rotary Club, and a long-time member of Rotary. He is truly a fine example of what a Rotarian truly is...a fully committed, generous, caring member of our community.

Bill has been married to Dene for over 61 years, and they had four children: 3 sons and a daughter. One grandson passed away. They are proud grandparents of two. Born in Pennsylvania, Bill grew up in a small community outside Pittsburgh, and did his undergraduate studies at Northeastern (Oklahoma) State, earning a B.A. in English. Bill then moved to southern California with Dene, where he received his M.A. in School Administration at LA State College, and completed his ED. D in Personnel and Curriculum at USC, in 1973.

Educator Bill Kipp was Superintendent of Redding Elementary Schools for 13 years.

It should be noted that he was active in music, beginning with a leading role in "Rip Van Winkle" in 8th grade, and singing in musicals including "H.M.S. Pinafore," and "Anything Goes," in high school. His love of music continues today, and he has been a member of church choirs. He was also a multi-sport athlete during high school, and has enjoyed golf, racket ball, skiing, camping, and RV-ing in his motor home.

A Korean War Veteran, Bill served in the US Marine Corps from 1949-1952, and was a Reserve Officer from 1956-1966.

Bill came up through the ranks in the field of education. He began teaching in various grades, K-12. For a brief period of time he was the Scout Executive for Boy Scouts of American, Eastern Oklahoma Area Council, and was responsible for the scouting programs for 5 ½ counties in Eastern Oklahoma. He returned to education, and served as Principal, Director of Personnel, Assistant Superintendent of Instruction, and then Superintendent of Schools for over 23 years (the last 13 years for Redding School District).

An active retiree, he lists a variety of activities that certainly utilize his unique talents while contributing to education and professionals in education throughout California and beyond, including support for programs in Hawaii, and New Guinea. He was a part-time Instructor for the Master's Program for Cal State LA, and St. Mary's College, the Professional Services Consultant for the Association of California School Administrators (ACSA), Chairman of Accreditation Committees for Western Association of Schools and Colleges for 22 years, and the California Retired Teachers Association, for which he was State President (2013-2015). Seeing that some teachers retired with income of less than $500 a month from their retirement plan, Bill became a strong advocate for teachers, and fought to acquire much better benefits for retired teachers today. Bill is proud of this achievements.

"Redding Rotary Club has meant a lot to me. When Dene and I moved around, Rotary gave me the opportunity to meet members of the business community. Rotary involvement welcomed us," Bill explained.

Bill has been a member of Rotary for well over 40 years. He was President of the Walnut Valley Kiwanis Club in 1970, a member of Rotary in Newhall, Redondo Beach, and Redding. He was the "Singing President" of Redding Rotary from 1990-1991. He started the "Ashland Bash" in 1998 at the request of then President, John Fitzpatrick. He started the Club's "Rotarian of the Month" Program, he was the Assistant to two Rotary District Governors, served on several Rotary District Committees, and chaired the District Convention for Governor Lou Gerard, held in Redding, and attended by over 1,000 Rotary members.

Bill 's advice for newer members: "Get involved in committee work. The Rotary Foundation is especially close to my heart."

Thank you, Bill, for your service, your dedication and your leadership. You embody the spirit of Rotary through your personal, professional, and community life. You exclaimed, "Who would ever think a poor kid from Pennsylvania could be so lucky?"

Now happily retired, Bill enjoyed traveling in his motor home, and spending time visiting his children and grandchildren (below).

Community Creek Cleanup Continues....

Randy Smith, Rotarian

Editor: Rotarian Randy Smith continues the monumental task of cleaning up the Sacramento River Trail. This is a record of Friday Jan 15th 2016. Additional outings in various locations occur every week and all club members are welcome.

After twelve years of volunteer struggles against non-native plants in local riparian corridors, a successful conclusion can no longer be questioned.

Since the NSRT union with the South Sacramento River Trail in 1990, the invading broom had dominated the area between the Trail and the Sacramento River. In most locations for over mile on both sides of the singular Bridge, the River could not be seen or easily visited. Last winter's campaign began to reverse years of neglect.

Students and volunteers cleared and burnt non-native plants before Friday's rain.

As in all forty four Friday missions since 2012, Bethel international students carried the heavy load and accomplished everything given them to do.

Pictures don't tell about esprit de corps, laughter during hard work, a Swiss lady made in charge of protecting California poppies, a lad from Ireland fighting to the last moment then calling a blessing, a precious girl in pink glasses waging a solitary struggle against trail side slash left from someone's former campaign, vital reinforcements from a neighbor, Jim Wyatt, a fellow Rotarian, Greg Balkovek, two About Trees professionals, Chris, Karen Bloom's arrival with chemical and dozens of incidents which colored and made the event so memorable and productive. The expression, "You had to be there." applies to what happened for a magical few hours along the old railroad main-line, now South Sacramento River Trail. What happened to Arlene's careful drawings remains a mystery, but it made no difference as everyone quickly understood and endeavored to fulfill the plan. Plant enemies of Spanish broom, Acacia, Ailanthus and Oleander plus wheelbarrows of dead material were cut down, hauled and fed to three large fires where everything completely disappeared after years of dominance between the Trail and the River. Varied and interesting Copley Greenstone rock formations containing hidden, ephemeral, gin clear, sometimes deep, water pools which had not been in sunshine for decades were suddenly exposed so all can see and visit.

Meantime across the River, another City Projects platoon worked to extend last week's conquest. It was as if the Air Resources Control Board had been superseded by Karen and volunteers diverted from another project. A few donated plants from Shasta Chapter California Native Plant Society were installed after five workers stayed to extinguish three foot tall, red hot, kitchen size, ember piles. Friday night's rain will erase any foot prints in soft ground and those coming to favored benches and view places may wonder exactly what happened, what is missing, who made this sudden open space. Those there will know and remember what was achieved on behalf of a better and more normal ecology. My thanks to everyone who worked so hard and so well. It was an honor to be among them and I am eager for next month's conclusion to this segment of recovery. Please find a way to thank Mathew's very special cohort. They come from every corner of the world; it is not given that I should see them again, but they never will be forgotten!

It was a really bad day for Spanish broom along the South Sacramento River Trail downstream from the Stress Ribbon Bridge. Times are 0800 (above) and 1500 hours (below). It showed a great positive change in seven hours against a difficult plant foe.

Fly Fishing Heals Disabled Veterans

The program was presented by Dick Recchia, vice president of the Shasta Trinity Fly Fishers, Inc., a non-profit organization (STFF).

Dick spent 30 years as executive in the automobile industry in Michigan. He has been an avid fly fisherman for over 30 years. He chose to retire in the Redding. The reason: Sacramento River at Shasta County is the World's Best Flying Fishing Area!

This STFF was formed in 1978 by a small group of local fishermen. Now it has a membership of over 200 people.

The goal of the organization is to promote learning opportunities for adult, youth, and wounded and disabled veterans. The incorporation funds, sponsors, and participates in conservation programs, fish habitat protections, scholarships, women's breast cancer recovery programs, and you've education/conservation in school classrooms.

The Healing Waters program is a free program for wounded, injured and disabled veterans. They learn and enjoy all aspects of fly-fishing, including fishing and casting classes, fly tying classes, fly rod building classes and fly fishing trips. Currently there are 41 enrollees under this program. "It makes my life more meaningful" many veterans said.

"Trout in classrooms" is a youth educational program taught in 10 Shasta County schools. The school children learn about the life cycle and stories of trout. The Fish Camp Scholarships provide a five-day summer adventure. Full scholarships are awarded every year.

There are classes and trip for adult fishing persons.

The STFF is also involved in local and National conservation projects: Salt Creek Battle Creek, Trinity River, Sacramento River Clean-up and many others.

New campus – the STFF was granted a piece of land by City of Redding for a new clubhouse. This 3000 ft.² building is currently under construction, in the Clover Creek Preserve. It is anticipated this will be ready by June 2016.
